

The test I took was from www.16personalities.com and it was similar to a Myers - Briggs Test, just a free knock off. This test would be useful to anyone who would like to learn more about themselves. This test could point you in a career path if you are young and unsure of what you want to do down the road. I feel this test is credible, the website is not littered with ads, and there is no questionable pop-ups when taking the test. If a website was full of advertisements that could mean the test was created without care and the website is only used to make money from ads, rather than trying to provide a fun and informative test for consumers. I do not think the test is 100% reliable. My results are very similar, however when I took the test for the first time, I found the results to be accurate. It said I was interested in entrepreneurial opportunities, which is true, rather than the second and third time said I would make a good lawyer or scientist. Percentage wise all the results are within 5% so I feel that i'm just on the edge of both categories. Despite this flaw, I found most of the information to be valid, and there was comments from other test takers that said it was spot on for them.
